Alan's priorities for Minneapolis...

- reduce crime and its causes
- help our schools and students succeed
- build the Near Northside with jobs
- keep Downtown and North Loop vital
- stretch our tax dollars

People matter! Families matter!

We should try new solutions to our problems if we aren't getting the results we want. We must address issues of culture and community to mend our social fabric and rebuild our human capital.

We can't afford to go it alone!

We need an urban Republican with policy experience who cares about our problems and who can propose new approaches and communicate our city's needs and concerns in ways that rural and suburban legislators will understand.

We are all in this together, and have to all work together!

on ISSUES you care about!

Fight crime. Minneapolis needs 200 additional well-trained and diversity-sensitive cops, as well as accountable judges, so the criminal justice system isn't playing "catch and release."

Empower individuals and families. And bring more career-oriented jobs to the community!

Demand more responsibility. From individuals and parents, to improve education and fight crime.

Support public transportation. For the young, the old, the disadvantaged and the disabled, and for commuters to reduce congestion and pollution. Recognize buses as the crucial part of the system.

Clarify K-12 schools' mission: Education!! And give students and schools incentives to succeed.

Compassion, on a realistic budget. Without realism we waste money and get poor results.

Civility in public spaces. Create expectations of respectfulness, tolerance and stewardship.

EXPERIENCE to represent you!

He knows the District! Alan and his bead artist wife Diane Fitzgerald have lived in the District for 26 years. He was a founding Board Member of the Downtown Minneapolis Residents Association and was President of his 500 unit condo.

He knows Government! Besides working at US EPA and the Government Accountability Office, he worked at Minnesota Planning and reported to the State Legislature. He's studied public policy through Humphrey Institute training and Citizens League and Center of the American Experiment membership.

He cares! He's served on boards like the 4th Precinct Citizens Committee on Police-Community Relations, tutored at the library and the Hennepin County juvenile detention center, and supports the public interest over special interests.

He knows real world economics! He has signed paychecks as a small business owner and has developed databases and analyzed businesses as a consultant. He believes in fiscal responsibility.
